WWE Doctor Chris! Mueller@BR DoctorFeatured ColumnistSeptember 28, 2021Credit: WWE.comWWE has been back on the road for months, but October 21 will mark the company's first return to Saudi Arabia since Super Showdown on February 27, 2020. While WWE likes to pack the card for these big-name shows, the results rarely impact most of the company's schedule. The events of Saudi Arabia almost exist in a pocket universe of their own, especially since some fans never watch them. The only match announced is now be Brock Lesnar vs. Roman Reigns for the Universal Championship. Many felt announced the fight before the Extremist Rules spoiled the results of Reigns vs. Finn Balor, and turned out to be right. With the draft coming in on Friday, some of these handles may not be possible. Since many people won't change tags, let's use the lists as they are now. The card is fully in the air, so let's take a look at what could be added to the form based on recent feuds and available talents. In the conclusion of Monday's Raw, Big E was celebrating a successful defense of the WWE title against Bobby Lashley when Drew McIntyre made an appearance. McIntyre lost the right to challenge Lashley when he was defeated at Hell in a Cell in June, but as soon as The All Mighty lost the WWE Championship, he opened the door for the Scot once again. Like Big E vs. Lashley, this would be a battle of two powers that also have speed, agility and resistance. The WWE wouldn't tease this game just to make us wait until the San'rie Survivor, so it looks like the Crown is the best time for it to happen. Randy Orton was this So Riddle had to deal with his rivalry with AJ Styles and Omos alone. Even though Raw has com um punhado de grandes equipes de etiquetas, incluindo os recém-chegados Angel Garza e Humberto Carrillo, parece que a WWE quer manter os Styles e Omos na foto do título. Styles e Orton são antigos campeões mundiais que se juntaram a duas estrelas em ascensão da Raw. Outra possibilidade seria um jogo da Tag Team Turmoil com duos como Garza e Carrillo, The Viking Raiders, The New Day e os reunidos Cedric Alexander e Shelton Benjamin, todos competindo pelos títulos juntamente com Styles e Omos. Seria uma ótima maneira de empacotar muitas Superstars num só jogo. Sempre que Damian Priest e Sheamus lutam, eles fazem um grande espetáculo para o Universo WWE. However, it's time for both men to move on. The Archer of Infamy could always face Jeff Hardy again, but a new challenger for the United States title seems more likely due to The Charismatic Enigma looking like he has already moved on during Monday's Raw. Elias is one name who stands out as being both available and an ideal opponent for Priest on the red brand. The former singer burnt his guitar and shed his old persona on the Aug. 9 edition, but we haven't seen him for a few weeks. If WWE brings him back next week to begin a new feud with Priest, it will have more than enough time to build up a program that concludes at Crown Jewel. The Usos only just had a successful title defense against The Street Profits at Extreme Rules, but it looks like they already have their next challengers waiting in the wings. Chad Gable and Otis had a quick backstage interaction with Jimmy and Jey last week, so it's obvious WWE is going to push them as the next contenders for the SmackDown Tag Team Championships. Otis and Gable ambos são lutadores de sucesso que trazem essas habilidades para cada partida. O melhor dos Usos que eles podem ajustar os seus estilos para corresponder Opponents. They have no problem working against high flyers, powerhouses or so Technics, so this would probably be one of the most exciting games of the crown jewel. Shinsuke Nakamura had long feuds with Baron Corbin, Sami Zayn and Apollo Crews for the Intercontinental Championship. He needs a fresh opponent. The man in the blue mark who would make a perfect challenger too was a former tag partner of Nakamura, Cesaro. The Swiss Superman was sadly underused recently and pushing him back into the cave to the titled IC. Allow him to return to the spotlight and give a corona a potential five-star classic. They don't even need one of them to turn a heel for this to work. It may be a short story about one man challenging the other for his title in a friendly contest. It's a race at home guaranteed. Wwemike Chiar@Mikechiar@tured Column IvOctober 16, 2021Jerod Harris/ Getty Imageswwe Hall of Famer Goldberg revealed this week that he is less than a hundred percent ahead of his match against Bobby Lashley in the crown now. During a Carcast appearance (H/T Subhojeet Mukherjee in Dwarf News is), Goldberg said the following about his next fight. "The knees are much better. I hope it's not gonna be completely cured until then. So [coin toss], will be, just say, in good enough shape to kick Bobby's ass. Let's just say it." Goldberg probably speaking in terms of plot line since the story of his last match against Lashley in Summerslam in August involved him in a knee injury. "Old veteran challenged Lashley to the WWE Championship at Summerslam; however, the match was halted and Lashley was declared the winner when Gold was determined. berg can't continue because of his knee. Lashley attacked Goldberg after the match, taking Goldberg's son, Gage, trying to make the save. Lashley then put the gage in the handbrake before backing off. An angry promised to take revenge, and he will have that opportunity Thursday at Crown Jewel in Riyadh, Saudi Arabia. The Crown Jewel game will be played under movements in Holds Barred, which means that competitors can essentially do anything they please. While Goldberg is still a hard competitive and in a great way for your age, Lashley is a physical wonder and is nine years younger. Still, it seems likely that Goldberg come up, as the Larious Reserve said that he will return to Lashley for what he did to his son. Listen Ring Rust Radio for all hot wrestling topics.
