Pedlads need a cover over the buttons on the P Front art. Otherwise you end up canceling the steps to be bumping against something, collecting a child, or anything else. The result is a nacuracy count. It's frustrating. This pedometer does not give a count of burnt calories or, it is not necessary, but nice to have. I only used this for about 2 days because my count continued to canceled. Good for a short period of time, isn't it ideal for everyone. Day.Helpful?
